- Seniors! The Class of 2019 group photo is today at 3PM on the CVU baseball field...unless there is bad weather. We will then move everyone inside to the main gym. Please meet on the baseball field at 3pm sharp.
 - Yearbook Club Needs You. Psst...you can earn a paycheck here! Yearbook club will have their first meeting on Tuesday, 10/30, 3:15-4:30 in the main office. We will be working on page layouts for fall 2018 and spring 2018 sports, layouts for portrait pages, interviews with students in all grades, Prom 2018, candid photos of students around campus, and business advertising sales. We will meet once each month, then you will work on your assignments online whenever possible. Students have the opportunity to receive $ for completed work. Interested in hearing more? Contact Carol Fox via email cfox@cvsdvt.org or stop in the Main Office to see her. Applications can be found in each House Office, in the Direction Center, and in the main office.
 - EnACT is hosting Taona Makunje Chigwenembe on Friday, 11/9 after school from 3-5pm. Taona is a visiting fellow from Malawi working at 350Vermont through November; she will lead a Climate Justice workshop that also gives us time to start to develop art pieces (poems/spoken word, music, paintings are all options) reflecting our perspectives on climate justice and/or proposed solutions and actions. All CVU students are welcome to attend this free workshop. There will also be free food. Join us!
 - Lost and Found is up for grabs – check out the table in the front of the Main Office. Will be there for the week and then it will go away.
 - Tickets are sold out for the Friday night performance of LEGALLY BLONDE and are selling quickly for the Saturday and Sunday shows as well. Don't miss out on seeing this spectacular show. Get your tickets today in the main office for the Saturday night show at 7:30 or for the Sunday matinee at 2:00.

WORD OF THE DAY: Indoctrinate

1. To instruct especially in fundamentals or rudiments: teach
2. To imbue with a usually partisan or sectarian opinion, point of view, or principle

Indoctrinate simply means "brainwash" to many people. But its meaning isn't always so negative. When this verb first appeared in English in the 17th century, it simply meant "to teach"—a meaning that followed logically from its Latin root. The "doc" in the middle of indoctrinate derives from the Latin verb docēre, which also means "to teach." Other offspring of docēre include docent (referring to a college professor or a museum guide), docile, doctor, doctrine, and document. It was not until the 19th century that indoctrinate began to see regular use in the sense of causing someone to absorb and take on certain opinions or principles.

Examples of INDOCTRINATE

"Clearly, [in the television series 'The Handmaid's Tale'] the Sons of Jacob have been scarily successful in indoctrinating Americans—or, more specifically, young former Americans—to accept a new set of social mores."

— Elena Nicolaou, Refinery29.com, 24 May 2018

"There were two academies in the frigate. One comprised the apprentice boys, who, upon certain days of the week, were indoctrinated in the mysteries of the primer by an invalid corporal of marines, a slender, wizen-cheeked man, who had received a liberal infant-school education."

— Herman Melville, White Jacket, 1850
