  - Hello, my name is Sophie Roy and I am a senior at CVUHS. For my graduation challenge I am hosting a meal packing event on 12/1! It will be in the chorus room and will be about 2 hours long. In order to host this event I need to raise 3,500 dollars. All the money will be going towards food for malnourished people around the world. If you would like to help eradicate world hunger, please contact me @sophieroy@cvsdvt.org or check out my instagram @sophiesgradchallenge (all checks can be made to RISE Against Hunger).

WORD OF THE DAY: FUGACIOUS

Lasting a short time: evanescent

Fugacious is often used to describe immaterial things like emotions, but not always. Botanists, for example, use it to describe plant parts that wither or fall off before the usual time. Things that are fugacious are fleeting, and etymologically they can also be said to be fleeing. Fugacious derives from the Latin verb fugere, which means "to flee." Other descendants of "fugere" include "fugitive," "refuge," and "subterfuge."
