- We are accepting donations for the CVU Clothing Swap until Wednesday, 11/28 in the Fairbanks House Office. The swap is on Thursday, 11/29, all day in the mini gym and is open to all at CVU--students, faculty, staff. No need to have made a donation to come and shop! Any questions, just ask. And if you'd like to volunteer and haven't let me know yet, we're still looking for help!
 - For those students who are participating in Winter sports, please make sure you are registered in Form Releaf. If you want to add a winter sport to your current registration, stop in the Main Office and see Debbie. Also, you must have a current well exam to participate. You can also check with Debbie to see if your exam is current. This needs to be done before November 26 which is when tryouts begin.
 - Hello, my name is Sophie Roy and I am a senior at CVUHS. For my graduation challenge I am hosting a meal packing event on 12/1! It will be in the chorus room and will be about 2 hours long. In order to host this event I need to raise 3,500 dollars. All the money will be going towards food for malnourished people around the world. If you would like to help eradicate world hunger, please contact me @sophieroy@cvsdvt.org or check out my instagram @sophiesgradchallenge (all checks can be made to RISE Against Hunger).

WORD OF THE DAY: PERFORCE

By force of circumstances

English speakers borrowed par force from Anglo-French in the 14th century. Par meant "by" (from Latin per) and the Anglo-French word force had the same meaning as its English equivalent, which was already in use by then. At first, perforce meant quite literally "by physical coercion." That meaning is no longer used today, but it was still prevalent in William Shakespeare's lifetime (1564-1616). "He rush'd into my house and took perforce my ring away," wrote the Bard in The Comedy of Errors. The "by force of circumstances" sense of perforce had also come into use by Shakespeare's day. In Henry IV, Part 2, we find "... your health; the which, if you give o'er to stormy passion, must perforce decay."
