

College Visit Report for Taking Notes

TIP: At the time of each college visit, it seems like you can and will remember all the details. It isn't until after a couple that you begin to forget which dining hall, gym complex, or student impression went with each school.

TIP: Bring a camera with you when you visit colleges. And take pictures that are not on the website.

Immediately after a college visit, record your observations, reactions, perceptions, and questions below. This is only to serve as a record for you. Your perceptions and what is important to you may change over the course of the year.
